SIGNING CEREMONY – 22nd OCTOBER 2015

6 waste management associations ink MoU to boost efforts in Southeast Asia

“The formation of the Alliance is a step in the right direction. It can help raise the standards of waste management,” says Senior Minister of State for the Environment and Water Ministry Dr Amy Khor who witnessed the signing.

OBJECTIVE OF APWEA

Charting the Next Growth for the Industry

The objectives of the Alliance which are being deliberated upon by the proposed member associations, are to:

- Share and facilitate the transfer of knowledge and expertise in waste management
- Promote the adoption of best practices
- Raise the awareness and standards of professionalism
- Serve as a platform for members to meet and work cohesively to explore cross-border business opportunities and transfer of technology.

ACHIEVING APWEA'S OBJECTIVES

The Members of APWEA will endeavour in good faith to meet its objectives through the following activities/means:

- a) Education: Conduct specialised training courses, seminars, and workshops (cross-border or otherwise) to meet the specific needs of the industries in the territories. APWEA will organise these courses and events, where feasible, in collaboration with the Training, Advisory and Promotion ("TAP") Centre of the International Solid Waste Association ("ISWA") and/or nationally-accredited centres or programmes.
- b) Best Practices: Define, create, maintain and coordinate industry best practices and support national or international standards, certification and professional accreditation in line with industry best practices.
- c) Conferences, Exhibitions and Business Match-making: Organise an annual or biennial dedicated event platform for the promotion of knowledge-sharing, showcase of solutions and business matching for buyers, sellers, manufacturers, distributors, agents and/or investors involved in the regional waste management and recycling fields for the Asian region. To consider adopting WasteMET Asia as the dedicated event platform in a mutually beneficial manner for the alliance and the event stakeholders. Promote and support national waste management and recycling exhibitions and conferences that complement the dedicated event platform or vice-versa.

ACHIEVING APWEA'S OBJECTIVES

- d) Regional/Cross Border Cooperation: In areas where cross border cooperation is required, local businesses, companies or stakeholders who are members of the relevant association representing its territory or jurisdiction in APWEA shall be considered as priority partners for such cross border cooperation. For example, if a Singapore company wishes to expand its business in Malaysia, the first approach may be through WMRAS who will be able to introduce the Singapore company to businesses, companies or stakeholders who are members of WMAM and potential priority partners for cross border cooperation.
- e) Information Sharing: To establish cost-effective means to facilitate the sharing of regional industry news and related developments, e.g. in technology, to promote Members' products and services, connect Members and facilitate their communication with each other.
- f) Annual meeting: Hold annual meeting(s) to share the developments between Members and discuss future activities of APWEA.
